

If you are having trouble viewing this email, please follow this link

swiss arts council
prohelvetia

العربية

Jonas Luescher in Tunisia

In cooperation with the Embassy of Switzerland in Tunisia, Swiss author Jonas Luescher will do a book-tour his award-winning novel Frühling der Barbaren in a number of Tunisian cities from 5 until 8 December, 2016. The original novel, which was set in Tunisia, has won the German Book Prize and the Berner Literature Award in 2013. It was translated into Arabic by Ola Adel and published by Dar Al-Arabi in 2015.

Details

Third Comix Week in Egypt

Organized by Sefsafa Publishing House, Egypt Comix Week is back for the third round from 5 until 10 December across five Egyptian cities. Swiss illustrators Julia Marti and Milva Stutz are few of the many European artists featuring their works alongside Egyptian ones during this week. During the event, the collective comics book 'Border Crossing' in which a number of artists including Marti and Barbara Meuli explore the topics of immigration and refugees will be launched.

Details

Discursiveness

From 19 December, Medrar is organizing the month-long exhibition Discursiveness which explores the relations between tactile and digital forms of practice through the works of Yannick Jacquet, Fred Penelle and Dia Hamed. With a passion for luminance and shades, their works Mécaniques Discursives, Terrain and Viscosity not only accentuate the stability of materials in static objects, but also strengthens the viewer's senses towards the motion represented in a set of blinking pixels.

Details

Newsflash Archive Unsubscribe to the newsletter Change profile